

TALK ABOUT TEACHING has reverted back to its original form as an informal, open session where teachers of any instrument including voice gather to share ideas, pose questions, seek solutions and socialize with their colleagues. There are no formal presentations, and any topic is welcome. (See LATTE for information on NVMTA's current lecture series.) Nancy Breth acts as host.

TALK ABOUT TEACHING meets on Zoom the first Friday of the month, beginning in October 2021 and excluding February 2022.
